production of an 8" CRT-based projection system which displays up to 4 million resolvable pixels. The new Marquee Ultra 8500HR is available today in production quantities.

"Development of the Ultra 8500HR is an important milestone for VDC Display Systems, as well as Video Display Corporation," commented Marcial Vidal, Vice President of Operations for VDC Display Systems. "In response to requests from our integration customers as well as the marketplace in which they operate, we've taken the initiative to provide the next generation of very high resolution projection displays."

David Mutchler, President of VDC Display Systems states, "Announcement of the new Ultra 8500HR is one of a series of product announcements to come from VDC Display Systems in the coming months. Our new product developments are based upon proven and readily-available CRT technology, for which VDC is the industry leader, as well as newly developed non-CRT technologies such as the new Sony SXRD high resolution LCoS projector. Our goal is to provide and support our customers with a choice of high resolution displays that meet or exceed expectation."
